

Peace Team...2-26-25----here are some charts from the 2-26-25 NY session open....I learned that the “MFB” indicator is cool, because, not only is it good for drawing 15 min “Time based liquidity” levels, yet, I found that it could also find the opening gap, that is just before the Asia open box...Its also important to draw the levels of “Previous Daily High” and “Previous Daily Low” (I found an indicator on Tradingview that marks it)...here are some charts if U dig...I’m not much for the quick trades with the MACD alert, because, well, its not as focused as the “Displacement based” trading. Its important to stay focused and not distract the TeamOne vibes.... :o) The alerts make for the “oh, quick, hurry up, place a trade” impulse, and that is really no fun... :o)...Cool...Onwards and upwards...peace

This is a 4 hour chart picture of where price is in the Range:

Premium or discount....the idea is that price retraces...
