

Peace. Here are charts journalings from the NY session open for 2-3-26 on MNQ.

I took a trade near the 5 min opening range low, yet was not my FVG – 123 strategy process.

It won, yet, if the “Process is the win”, then its not a win, though it won :o)

Then, I did some analysis on a trade that happened after I was not in front of the charts.

Often the 1 min creates “manipulation noise”, and the real price move happens on the 5 min or 15 min time frame, which is why I am working on the new MFB indicator. Its time for technological help. As usual, the AI Trade Assistant (Coach) was very helpful.

Peace.
