

Peace guys:

Just a thought on how a different election result would reflect what we have noticed....

It's simple to us. Hiphop wins (truth) or Many level pressure runyanhead takeover of media and corporate power cash flows.

No offense to the good people out there....but here is what "we saw through", and that ain't a cliché to us.

Running game plays intention pushin' division destruction by clowns remember music is everybody's business...is...was...will be....we're brushin' our shoulders off arm in arms with Respect Due...Thank God!

We saw right through it long ago, and it ain't cliché to us, it's real.

THAT'S RIGHT....BROTHERS....still is.....catch up with us....

Hiphop is a global voice...effects millions of voters...some play with the people's wounds for money...we don't....we are more real with it...that's that...big difference....chafe from wheat like the Bible....Good n evil...no matter people's habits or whatever...a soldjah is a soljah...peace...

Both sides HAVE to work together...so, common links...we need your patience and strength...don't take it all on...do your best, let God do the rest.

No bandaid on what needs some cloves of garlic in a favorite soup for a cold or maybe antibiotics if the person is on blood thinner...(much love to all our senior friends)...slow n easy folks....o.k. then...Take care out there y'all....All things to the good...peace....new tunes on the way...been busy with the care home stuff....one day at a time...peace...
