

It's Mythology....

...Folklore....

We know, we are saying what it already is, and what some folks already feel and know, but there is an argument that exists in the world about "What it is?"

"It" definitely is not hatred, confusion and rape and pillage..." that stuff is just part of the world...when listening to any Killah Beez that rap about that stuff, you will also hear the victorious spiritual martial arts about unity and final triumphs....that part is where we relate...

What is the "B" thing as it relates to us?

It's Mythology, Folklore, spiritual warfare triumphant through the use of media, rhymes, expression in any form to share the strength of the mystery and how it transcends the seemingly continuous battle for the good people...(at the root, basic self discipline, self motivation, faith, one day at a time, hustle....)

O.k., so what are people mad at? Trying to go against or strong arm the message into something selfish and not getting away with it....instead of "it's" true reality, which is a powerful inspirational mythology that is about unity...yes...Rap...unity...love...that's part of Rap too! 😊 It's saved a lot of present gangsters lives...that's why the confusion of this in the media is upsetting to so many...but the "so many" are speaking and will take over, as it is slowly...Antagonist (Grinch) and Protagonist...there has to be an antagonist in a story....try seeing it as Antagonist and Protagonist...it simplifies...and that the whole thing is a Mythology story.... 😊
