(The point is that we all get together to process the central topic together...we have to find common ground...other than that, it's been an argument between groups...the game has been a drawn out multi input interrelation/cultural...farrrr out culmination direction of "look at him"...relate or not?, o.k. now don't, now look at allll the folks like RKAMTZBB...etc..., there's the truth?, yes/No then look at him, no, all of us...O.K. let's save the world...something like that ☺ It's God's game...we're just here along for the journey....God the credit....and be as comfortable as possible friends...slow n easy steady....positive emotions not negative, allow relaxation response/rest so the body can heal itself, careful with sugar/carbs/salt/portions, exercise/stretch, build meaning in life...we do our best n let God do the rest...peace...)
