(outro) “Peace, don't trust a 5 without the 3 6 4 people, it's build or destroy. One world” (this means that just negativity without love, discernment, and discipline is out a' control....we learn from the G's who keep they crews goin' and all that...like the original MC battles where leaders “pull the team back together” afterwards...way to go!!! Ya know!!!)

(extra thoughts)....we notice all this “25” and “2X”, “2 for 5” stuff in the media, and since it's effecting everybody's minds, we thought to say a few lines (peace to “gotta say mines line for line”) about our perspective of how things are goin'...(the rap is just a way to talk about things, and my/our compadres would always prefer it to be communicated (for me at least), in a flow, or something that I will remember, so the work we have done to solve Running games riddles, can be close when we need to address a moment...here's an example of our thought...if we were to say historically speaking about the B game topic....“hey, look at these two kids at a private school, and look at these two kids growing up in the hood”, then “wait a minute, what's everybody payin' attention to all this for?”...“look at allll these kids and doubles and stories”!!!!..“That's the point, not some ONE person creating idolatry”....“that's right...we back!” 😊 “and God is above all of it”...(knows everything) “something is miraculous or very different to take notice of...even be inspired by”...and the years went by, as factions started to have their opinions/arguments about “what IT is”...well, the reality of the situation, when you see it from God's perspective is, “25” is definitely not “100”...splitting the kids into quarters is “not how it's supposed to be”...how it went, is just the lesson of the story, that we can learn from, as the factions argued it out...the Word of God holds true...which is why we have to say, “Heyyyy, wait a minute...that's 75% there too Mr., and not only that...here's a satellite aware (1love truth) 5---3—6—4--- to ya”...All the numbers are God's, and they show themselves in moments or relationships in life as ex: 3 (love), 4 (discipline/clockwork), 5 (truth/power/fight for your mind), 6 (chafe from wheat)...I have heard that 7 is “the number of completion)...I'm no expert, just in this humble experience...some of the Rap Brothas learned these numbers in they life, with reeeeeal difficult circumstances, is why "love is love" in rap is so important. We help eachother...! 1 Word!!! Soooooo actually, it's about evvvveerrrrybody, we all have a say, and we would like the whole thing to do that now...because focusing on individuals for a touchstone or departure point is good, but we have to all work together, that's how the "strength in numbers" works...(also, by the way, to any movie folks who can hear us, "please don't disrespect our 'Buster' talk...or the other loving stuff we say...why take something that was out of love, and make it negative...we need to help eachother, there is a real evil out there that wants to ruin the thang...which is why things went the way it went so covertly..."That's Gangsta N**ga"...(as some of our Compadres would say comfortably)...everybody has their way of expressing Brothahood...be encouraged...peace
